Has anyone else heard outcomes of Stem Cell treatment, for good or bad? I'm considering pursuing this even after taking DocSarah's concerns into account.

Thanks!

Hi Brad, yes I've read all there is to read about the treatment and possible outcomes. I even contacted many Professors studying and conducting research in the UK, but they were all wary 😊

I was sent a link to the article below

sciencepolicy.duke.edu/content/perspecti...s-benefits-and-risks

Vets are using Adipose stem cells quite routinely to treat dogs with arthritis and other ailments. I was told the stem cells were sent away to Scotland - treated in some way - then given back via IV. All carried out with the strictest confidentiality!

I believe it comes down to the individual and how they feel, no one can advise you because the outcome is unknown and everyone with Arachnoiditis has a different story to tell about their health problems.

Wish you all the best, Helen
