

Hot and bothered...

Phew it's been hot...and even hotter in Geneva and Chambéry when we went out to the Congress. Trying to be organised I looked online for the forecast which said 15 degrees: not too accurate as it was 35-39 degrees on some afternoons!

Back home, the lawn is like straw, the shrubs dejected looking although on the plus side my olive tree is perking up!

Seems like the rain is on the way. which my thirsty garden will be happy about!
